BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1932.

FORTY-FIVE YEAR, N. 53

NEWLY-ELECTED CITY FATHERS TO ASSUME OFFICE MONDAY A. M.

Mayor-Elect Blaize and City Commissioners-Elect Bourgeois and Perkins to Take Reigns and Enter Busy Session—List Tentative Appointments.

Mayor-elect G. Y. Blaize and City Commissioners-elect W. L. Bourgeois and H. Grady Perkins, city fathers for the next four years, will be sworn in Monday morning, no later than 8 o'clock, and, after taking the oath of office will meet in regular monthly meeting. This, of course will be a busy session, appointments to be officially announced and plans for the new year entered.

Mayor Blaize will have the outside work as Mayor Traub has at present and exercises his prerogatives as chief executive.

Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois will succeed the work of present Commissioner Egloff as tax collector and assessor.

Commissioner H. Grady Perkins will succeed in the work now carried on by Commissioner Ladner, charge of the waterworks department and general secretarial work.

List of Tentative Appointments.
Herewith is a tentative list of appointments to be made by the new board Monday morning. It will be seen there will be three men on the police force. The two during the day to wear uniforms. The all-night policeman, Mark Oliver, no formal uniform. Oliver is now paid for by private subscriptions by men in the business section. They will be relieved of this cost.

The list follows:
City Attorney, L. M. Gex.
City (Day) Police, W. T. Hobbs.
City (Day) Police, R. Dougherty.
(These two will wear uniforms)
City (Night) Police, Mark Oliver.
City Street Foreman, Albert Favre.
City Truck Drivers, Fred Bandier.
Rene Bernand, Alfred Arnold.
City Tractor, Peter Sick.
City Grader—
City Truck Helpers, Alcide Ladner, Thos. Quintini.

City Firemen—Jos. Seafide, 4 P. M. to 12 midnight. Frank Dillman, 8 A. M. to 4 P. M. L. M. Telhard, 12 midnight to 8 A. M.

City Hall Janitor, Alse J. Carver.
City Pond Keeper, Victor Favre.
City Waterworks, Foreman, Albert Monti.
City Waterworks Helper, Joe Taconi.

City Cemetery, Oscar Lafontaine.
Mayor Blaize formerly served the city in like capacity, with ability and efficiency. He will enter upon the discharge of his duties with experience that will serve him in good stead.

Commissioner-elect Bourgeois has been a business man all his life. Conservative and safe he is painstaking and his work will be accurate even to the smallest detail.

Commissioner-elect H. Grady Perkins is well versed and a college man will serve his secretarial and other duties to that extent that will stamp him worthy of the trust.

Mayor Traub has pledged his hearty co-operation to Mayor Blaize and has agreed to keep the fire department and other agencies of city in full force from midnight, Dec. 31-Jan. 1 and under official auspices until the new board takes over the reigns of administration. Commissioners Egloff and Ladner have also pledged their services in like manner.

Three Arrests Made By St. Bernard Cops In Touchet Slaying

Authorities from St. Bernard parish, Louisiana, who have made three arrests in connection with the killing last Tuesday of Mack Touchet, Biloxi fisherman who was fatally wounded by shots from a boat that came alongside his oyster lugger in the Louisiana marshes, are expected in Gulfport this week for a conference with Sheriff C. P. Huggins and District Attorney William.

Members of the Nellie L. case killed the sheriff's ing.

MAY ISSUE WARRANTS IF NO FUNDS

Attorney General Office's Opinion Is Good News To Teachers and Others

County treasurers may issue warrants even though there are no funds in the county coffers, the attorney general's office has ruled.

The opinion came as good news to school teachers, court employees and county officers, who in many sections faced non-payment of salaries owing to depleted treasuries.

Assistant Attorney General W. W. Pierce wrote the opinion which holds that a law enacted by the last legislature "does not prohibit the issuance of warrants by county officers in payment of court expenses, salaries of teachers in the public schools and in payment of public officers."

The opinion also sets out that "section 15 of Chapter 235 of the general laws of 1932, is applicable only to the issuance of warrants in payment of obligations contracted by the boards of supervisors."

The assistant attorney general pointed out that the state constitution provides for county officers, teachers and courts, and contends that if the legislature could enact a law to prevent payment of their salaries, it would in effect nullify sections of the basic law of the state.

Splendid Service Of Bay St. Louis Telephone Exchange

Local telephone service of the Bell Company is of prompt and efficient character and these lines are written in appreciation of the Bell Company's and of their employee's effort to give the best at all times and serving one and all alike. The employees play no favorite. Their one effort is to unite in giving accurate and quick service and never tiring to serve the patron.

Miss Alcide Ladner is in charge of the Bay St. Louis office and not only to her splendid administrative management is this due but to the cooperation of the other young ladies who are unremitting and unceasing with that watchword, "Service," upmost in mind. With a curtailed number composing the force this splendid attention is all the more noteworthy.

DECEMBER MEETING P. T. A. CENTRAL SCHOOL BUILDING

The December meeting of the Central School Parent Teachers' Association was held on Tuesday, December 13th at 3 P. M. Due to the inclement weather the attendance was small but enthusiastic. The meeting was opened by the singing of P. T. A. songs and a prayer by Mrs. Osinach. It was decided during the business session to furnish milk to the underweight children.

This year starting in January, Mrs. Jacobs and Miss Mauffray read splendid papers on "Character Building in the Home and in the School." The attendance prize was given to the First Grade, Mrs. Ashcraft, teacher.

Bay High Awards Sweaters to Sixteen Football Players.

Sixteen Bay St. Louis High School gridgers were awarded letter sweaters by Superintendent S. J. Ingram. Coach "Hippo" Phillips will lose seven of these lettermen when football practice is called next fall.

The 1932 lettermen are David Middleton, Orest Laurent, Earl Raymond, Ed Marquez, Jack Holleman, Milton Moran and J. V. Bontemps, who graduate next spring; and Roy Jordy, Torrence Ansley, Coy Ladner, Joe Loiacano, Truman Beeson, William Smith, Tony Seafide, August Seafide and Francis Nelson.

Bill Colmer Back From Washington Delivers Address

William M. Colmer, congressman-elect from the South Mississippi District, in an address before the Gulfport Young Men's Business Club gave his version of what the country must do to relieve the present economic depression. He recently returned from Washington, where he went to "get acquainted" prior to taking his seat in Congress next March.

F. H. Egloff and Son to Enter New Business January 1.

Ferdinand H. Egloff and son, John, have formed a co-partnership and are preparing to open a new mercantile establishment at the same location where the business has heretofore been carried.

The new business will be in the grocery line, but on the cash and carry plan. New fixtures and an entirely new interior will be arranged. This move is in order to keep abreast with the modern method and trend and in advance we bespeak for Messrs. Egloff & Son a successful business. Mr. Thomas Egloff will continue as an attaché of the store.

Expect to Begin Bridge at Orleans Early in New Year

Parties interested in the rail-vehicular bridge to be erected over the Mississippi river met at New Orleans to give final approval to contracts. Actual construction of the bridge is expected to get under way shortly after the new year.

Governor O. K. Allen met with the advisory board of the Louisiana Highway Commission to formally sign the contract for the state. Public belt railroad officials approved the sale of $6,000,000 in bonds to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and four major building contractors signed contracts for construction of the approaches, substructure and superstructure.

The bridge is being built jointly by the state and the railroad. The project is not expected to be completed until 1935. It has been estimated that approximately 2,000 workers will be employed. Cost of the construction has been placed at $13,000,000.

Uncle Charlie's Nite Club For New Year's Eve Will Attract Many

Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, patronized by the elite, offers a program of dance and floor show Saturday—New Year's Eve—that will attract many from the Coast and New Orleans.

The number of reservations are coming in at a most encouraging rate, says C. A. Breath, Sr., owner and operator, and since he has gone out of the way for an evening of entertainment feels encouraged.

There will be several tables with large number of guests. Parties larger than usually, says Mr. Breath, and that these as well as the smaller ones will receive the same uniform and efficient attention.

If not already attended to, might be well to make reservations now. Uncle Charlie's famous Nite Club band will give the very best possible. This band broadcasted from WGCM at Gulfport Wednesday afternoon.

HARRISON CALLS FOR COMMITTEE

Suggests Conference to Find Program for Restoration Of Economic Order

Let a Senate committee consult with the nation's economists, financiers, and statesmen and find the highway to a restored economic order.

That is the proposal of Sen. Harrison of Mississippi, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, who announced Monday night he would offer a resolution after the Christmas holidays calling for such action.

Harrison's idea would include a study "of the whole economic situation with a view primarily of obtaining constructive suggestions from leading economists, financiers and statesmen as to methods and policies to restore economic stability."

Such subjects as currency stabilization, inflation and silver would be included in the investigation by the Mississippiian who has discussed his proposal informally with members of the finance committee. He believes the Senate would favor prompt action.

The suggestion was put forward at the same time as some leaders were privately predicting the introduction of currency inflation legislation. One said the belief that inflation is inescapable is growing among members of Congress.

"We have groped in economic despair for more than three years," Harrison said in a statement. "The situation neither at home nor abroad shows any marked improvement."

"The methods which have been adopted are merely palliative. The situation has become cancerous."

"Certainly in the circumstances the best constructive thought of the nation should be given, that the Congress and the new administration may be aided in adopting the wisest policies which will hasten economic recovery."

"Personally, I believe that radical curtailment in government activities and every economy in governmental administration must be adopted, thus effecting savings to the taxpayers. A balanced budget to preserve the credit of the government must be obtained and maintained."

"Aside from that, exchanges must be stabilized and commodity prices increased. Tariff barriers must be lowered and international trade encouraged x x."

LOST BLOOD HOUND WAS TIED TO TREE NEAR GULFPORT

Coast Man-Hunter Believed To Have Been Double-Crossed by Fugitive

A bloodhound sent out last Thursday night to trail a suspected burglar only to disappear and become the object of a hunt himself, was found Tuesday, tied to a tree deep in a woodland swamp and nearly starved to death near Gulfport. The burglar suspect, Fred Hoffman remained at large.

Pursuing possemen early suspected the hound may have been seized by the man pursued and some believed Hoffman had made friends and taken the hound to his swamp hideaway. Which ever the case the dog's condition showed clearly he had been double-crossed. A young hunter found the bloodhound after hearing faint howls far off in the woods.

Hoffman, accused in a hard-ware store burglary, escaped after leading officers to the edge of the swamp on a pretense of turning up two confederates.

Rotary Club To Meet In Future at "The Answer"

At its regular weekly meeting Wednesday night Bay St. Louis Rotary Club voted to meet in future at "The Answer," in Union Street, conducted by Mrs. A. Bourgeois.

Rotary meets every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, and for its first assembly and dinner at The Answer a programmed address will feature the event. Supper and meeting will be held in the beautiful Patio Dining Room.

Mississippi Power Company Donates to Local Basket Fund.

The generosity of Mississippi Power Company in contributing $25.00 cash to the Bay-Waveland United Charities, distributor of 230 Christmas baskets is worthy of mention.

The company contributes in more ways than one to the different civic and general activities of the various towns in which it operates. Never lagging, on the contrary, always contributing in some form or another. A cash gift of such size is appreciated by our people.

Death of Well-Known Winter Resident In Swarthmore, Pa.

Horace W. Avery, for many years a winter resident of Bay St. Louis and who became popularly acquainted with local residents, passed away at Swarthmore, Pa., Tuesday night, at which place he was residing. The remains were shipped to Detroit, Michigan, where they were buried Wednesday morning besides those of his wife who died in Bay St. Louis a little over a year ago. The couple is survived by two sons.

Mr. Avery's death brings much regret. He was affable, friendly and a man who loved his fellowmen. He had been successful in life and the latter years had been spent in Bay St. Louis. He was fond of the Gulf Coast and more especially of this section. Year after year he and Mrs. Avery would return and their leave after a winter's sojourn was always a source of regret.

In his death his family sustains a distinct loss; his friends who will always remember him with the most pleasant recollections. Mr. Avery's devotion of many years to his invalid wife was one of the beautiful traits and characteristics of this good man, who has gone to be with his beloved one and partner in blessed wedlock for over fifty years. The Echo regrets to chronicle his passing away.

Aggregate Net Income Of Taxpayers In U. S. Reported 18 Billions

The aggregate net income of individual taxpayers amounted to $18,118,634,941 in 1930.

This was reported by the internal revenue bureau at Washington which contrasted this figure with preliminary estimates of $13,231,352,042 for 1931.

The average net income for 1930 was $4,877 in comparison with a preliminary average of $4,245 for last year.

Taxpayers who had incomes of $1,000,000 or more dwindled to 150 in 1930 as compared with 513 in the well-remembered year of 1929. Last week the bureau reported near final figures for 1931 which showed that this very select class had dropped in number to 75 persons.

Corporation net income for 1930 amounted to $6,428,812,710. In that year corporations paid $711,703,000 in tax while individuals paid $476,714,808.

MONTHLY MEETING.

Regular monthly meeting of King's Daughters will be held at the hospital parlor, Monday afternoon three o'clock. This is to be the first meeting of the new year, a full attendance is respectfully urged.

BAY-WAVEL'D CHARITIES DISTRIBUTE 230 BASKETS FOR XMAS HOLIDAYS

Sum of Two Hundred And Fifty Dollars Realized—Balance in Fund To Be Used For New Year Baskets—List of Donations.

XMAS AT TAYLOR SCHOOL

Holiday Program at City School at Cedar Point—Benefactors Made This Possible.

To make others happy is an outstanding attribute both of the heart and mind. To make children happy is a greater happiness and blessed to those who put forth their efforts and the wherewith to make it possible. There is great happiness both to the donors and to the recipients.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the program and Christmas tree at R. W. Taylor School.

When Santa Claus arrived the exercises began. Three numbers were presented. A dergarten Orchestra in costume, followed by appropriate reading in which all pupils took parts.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Pitcher gave a generous check to buy presents for the tree. It will be remembered they have thus favored the school for the past eight years. In fact the pupils of Taylor school speak of these friends as "Our Fairy Folks."

In addition to this supply Mrs. John W. Bryan another friend of the school brought large boxes of toys of every kind to delight the hearts of small children. These were distributed to all the children present and no child was forgotten, even the sick ones who could not attend were remembered.

Mrs. Leonard donated a generous supply of candy—enough for each person present to have a proverbial "Christmas bag."

After the toy distribution Mrs. Bryan and Mrs. Moreau, assisted by other ladies present served hot chocolate, cake and fruit.

The members of the P. T. A. were given a small token in grateful recognition of valuable services rendered during the past year.

Mrs. Bryan, generous and far-thinking, also presented gifts to several of her specially invited guests, seemingly forgetting nobody.

The pupils of the school sent Mr. and Mrs. Pitcher a Christmas letter expressing appreciation of their many kindnesses. Thanks and appreciation were also expressed to Mrs. Bryan for the joy and good cheer she brought, also to Mrs. Leonard for the candy.

According to Dame Rumor, the school will have something else of interest to report next week.

This appears to be a deep secret and only when pupils will reappear for the new 1933 session will they see and be happy. A "thing of beauty and joy forever," it was stated.

Mr. Clarence Hava, local electrician, kindly and free of charge "wired" the Xmas tree and all electrical connections necessary. The school is thankful for his services.

Mrs. Lena S. Stockstill is principal of the R. W. Taylor School, one of the institutions of our city with many friends.

Federal Charges Filed Against Trio Accusing Them of Counterfeit

Federal charges against three alleged counterfeiters were pending at Jackson, Tuesday, as the trio was held in the Hinds county jail on bond of $10,000 each.

The three, D. C. Askew of Louisiana, J. W. Sorrell, Ita Bena, and G. W. Clarke of Texas, were taken into custody last week in Vicksburg after allegedly passing seven bogus $100 bills in Jackson.

Two charges, both contained in the same affidavit, were filed against the men by a federal secret service operative of New Orleans.

The three were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner T. B. Ricketts and waived preliminary hearing. Bonds were fixed at $10,000 each.

The Christmas basket distribution on Saturday last, December 24, from funds realized by a benefit and cash donated under auspices of practically every organization both in Bay St. Louis and Waveland, far exceeded expectations.

Two hundred and thirty baskets were distributed, these filled abundantly with substantial meats and groceries. Two hundred and fifty dollars was the amount realized. Of this fund there remains a balance of $16.00 and from this a few baskets will be prepared New Year's eve and distributed to needy families that seem to have been left out through no cause of anyone.

There has never been a worthier charity than this. Ample money was realized and the needy seem to have been well remembered. These baskets were of a kind that not only helped for Christmas but for days after.

The Echo requested a statement from the committee in charge, of which Albert Biehl was chairman, of which the following is a copy:

The officers extend their thanks and appreciation to all who helped, contributed cash or groceries, bought tickets or in any way helped to make this undertaking a success and take this medium of acknowledging their appreciation, and if any name is omitted it is an oversight.

The following made cash contributions: Mississippi Power Co., $25.00; Mrs. Allen, $10.00; A. G. Favre, $3.00.

The following contributed $2.00 each: Grady Perkins; W. L. Bourgeois; Albert Biehl, R. N. Blaize, Tom G. Smith, W. J. Gex, Jr., Mrs. Marshall Ballard, E. Fahey, Chas. G. Moreau, Sea Coast Echo; Misses Ames, Frank Martin, Geo. R. Rea, Lucien M. Gex.

The following contributed $1.50 each: John Osinach and Porter's Garage.

The following contributed $1.00 each: E. J. Gex, Elsa Mauffray, Jos. O. Mauffray, R. L. Ladner, T. P. Cassidy, Beach Drug Store, Schneider's Garage, L. Capdepon, Boy Green, O. Briggs, O. Crawford, John Craft, Albert S. McQueen.

The following made cash donations of less than $1.00: M. T. Bangard, R. Telhard, M. L. Ansley, Red Star Market, M. Parrilla, A. J. Weinberg, R. Koch, Mr. Boyer, Economy Store, J. J. Barker, O. Sylvester, Mr. Brown E. Osborne, O. T. Arnold, T. Loiacano, Miss Mary Colson.

The following donated groceries: LeBlanc Gro. Co., H. G. Hill Store, Vairin's Store, Self Serve Grocery, I. G. A. Store, Reinike's Store and Mrs. Peter Jones.

Miscellaneous donations: Mr. Gus Soniat, coffee; Mr. Schwall, pop; Mrs. E. J. Leonard, candy; Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, cakes; Sanitary Bakery, bread; R. J. Ladner, ice.

The children of the various schools are to be praised for the wonderful lot of groceries they contributed, and the St. Stanislaus College for cash donated by the boys.

The committee is indebted to Uncle Charlie for the use of his Nite Club to hold their meeting and appreciate his generosity in donating the Nite Club and the Nite Club band for the dance given Dec. 19th.

The committee appreciates the publicity given this movement by the Sea Coast Echo and for contributing the tickets for the dance given Dec. 19th.

Thanks are extended to Radio Station WGCM for announcing the dance over their station, and St. Stanislaus College for the use of the college to pack the baskets.

The following merit the thanks and appreciation of the committee for delivering the baskets—Mrs. Craft, Miss Ida Edwards, Mr. Tom Smith, the county for use of two trucks and T. F. Monti.

Committee—Albert Biehl, chairman; vice chairman, Ed. J. Arce neaux, Mrs. Leo W. Seal, treasurer; Chas. A. Gordon, chairman publicity committee.

Mayor-elect G. Y. Blaize personally assisted in soliciting cash donations.

Happy New Year

NOT long after this issue of THE SEA COAST ECHO will have passed into history and the bright new infant we hailed only twelve months ago as a symbol of 1932 will have grown to the old man pictured lean, bowed and gray carrying the scythe and representing Father Time.

Each year is only a period of prescribed days, weeks and months, a matter of the calendar, but as a whole a span of the four seasons that represents fleeting life. The poet has said that each step man takes is another closer to the grave. And again we are told that the path of glory leads to the grave.

While this is the solemn side of life and is inevitable in the last analysis it must not be forgotten that every impulse is life and means for new hope.

WITH 1933 at hand it is well to look forward. And general opinion is that there is much to anticipate. It is possible while many have been taught a lasting lesson in more ways than one, that we have been disciplined and weened from many of the unnecessary things we were wont to have, we will be happier when the better things do gradually return with a readjustment of conditions. It might be a longer wait for some than for others.

It is certain we cannot drop to a lower ebb. It is time the tide was turning. And with strong hearts, determination and that spark of hope which makes for a new life we may wish for the readers of THE SEA COAST ECHO and the public in general a Happy New Year. And in that sense that is not only for the better things that we are given to commercialize, but for a closer feeling of fellowship, a warmer sense of love for mankind; for a more tolerant feeling and not only vision for light but for that wisdom from above that is born of the better way of understanding and doing.

NINE CAUSES OF CRIME.

NINE basic causes for the crime wave "which is causing fear to enter the hearts and lives of all citizens" are described by Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission.

It is interesting to observe that this man, a member of the Hoover commission on Law Enforcement, concludes that the usual police and law enforcement control of crime has failed to check the atrociousness and the number of felonies committed. The causes are listed by Mr. Loesch from personal experience, wide reading and information which came to him in his several official capacities.

The nine crime causes are:

- (1). Largely unassimilable foreign immigrants from Eastern and Southeastern Europe.
- (2). The existence of slum districts in our larger cities.
- (3). The Eighteenth Amendment and prohibition laws.
- (4). Incompetent, corrupt and politician-ridden police.
- (5). The automobile as a crime breeder.
- (6). Dishonesty in high finance.
- (7). Incompetent and inefficient prosecutors.
- (8). The negro law-breaker.
- (9). The decline of religion and authority.

To correct the immigration situation, the Chicago speaker advises guiding immigrants to citizenship and teaching them the principles of our government. He insists that the slums of the larger cities must be extinguished and suggests a permanent independent police force. Improvement in prosecution should come about, in his opinion, by making them appointive officers, removable only for incompetence or dishonesty. Interesting also is his conclusion that prohibition is responsible for from one-third to one-fourth of the crime wave at its present height.

RIVER BRIDGE AND "SHORT CUT."

THIS section of Louisiana-Mississippi naturally rejoices at the immediate consummation of two public projects, major and outstanding, to say nothing of the millions of dollars cash that will circulate in our very midst.

We have reference to construction of the Mississippi river bridge at New Orleans and the New Orleans-Gulf Coast short-cut route. Money for both is in hand and our readers are already acquainted with the fact how well advanced and how definitely this work is already outlined, financed and "ready to go."

For the New Year we know of none other than these two projects that mean so much, during period of construction, and of benefits subsequent.

Both the "short cut" and river bridge have long been cherished ambitions. Dreams at first. Now with the New Year the things that at one time were considered engineering impossibilities and largely because of immensity of funds required for financing are barriers removed.

These are great things to consider for the New Year and the fact their accomplishment is about to be realized is much that both Louisiana and Mississippi, particularly this section, have to look forward to.

VETERANS' HOME ON THE COAST.

VISITORS to the Coast and west of Biloxi should not fail to visit the scene of building operations by the government where the veterans' million-dollar home, hospital and other buildings are in course of construction.

The main building is perhaps the largest single structure of brick and steel between New Orleans and Mobile and is not only a fine example of architecture but represents the genius of man and power of intelligence. Facing Little Biloxi River this building has a most commanding location and it is hoped that none of the pine trees that cover the vast tract, and other trees as well, will be removed.

Of easy accessibility and all roadways hard-surfaced and opened to the public one should not fail to visit. It is well worth while to see how generous and big is our country, how thoughtful and tender to take care of its soldier veteran body and how vast and complete is this enterprise.

It is expected the home will be opened about February 1 and will accommodate a thousand or more inmates. It is the very last word in substantial and modern construction; fireproof and every comfort and device of safety has been considered.

Senator Pat Harrison is deserving of major credit for the building of this home on the Gulf Coast, for it is well remembered other communities exhausted every effort and influence in attempting to secure such building and its activities. Others voted for the Gulf Coast, but Senator Harrison was outstanding and successful in the fight.

Figures of cost, operation and general maintenance augment the sum to staggering numbers, but it is worthy of the cause to which it will be dedicated. This is a great country. And one cannot but help realize it. May the veterans be happy in their new home.

ALL HOTELS TO OPEN JANUARY 1.

OF the number of palatial hotels along the Mississippi Gulf Coast none will remain closed this winter. Edgewater, New Biloxi Hotel and White House, Buena Vista as well will be open to the public on and after January 1, contrary to public belief in many sections. It was thought the Coast could not have weathered conditions. It is now proven this was merely a conjecture by many and speculations by others.

Comparatively the Mississippi Gulf Coast has been hit less than the average section, even though we must admit we have felt the tenaciousness of an unparalleled economic situation.

Formal re-opening for the winter of Edgewater Hotel is quite significant. It well represents an expression of confidence and of ability to weather the storm; that the Edgewater still has a clientele that justifies its opening for the season is noteworthy. One must consider the tremendous operating overhead of tourist hotels, the Edgewater for instance, and that a big volume of business must first be had before any profits may be considered.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast is as popular as ever. It is a place where people play golf all the year round; where one's motor does not freeze and one may travel the beach boulevards and pineland roads of the immediate interior; where fishing and boating is ever available and where the sun shines brightest and longest during the bleak winter from which the tourists flee and find sanctuary.

We are proud of our Coast hotels and note with interest and satisfaction they are doing business at the same stand again this winter.

VALUE OF O. S. T. HARDSURFACING.

VALUE of hard-surfacing highways, to say nothing of permanency, was well evidenced Christmas time during the several days of constant rain when travelers over the Old Spanish Trail between Bay St. Louis and New Orleans enjoyed a security and comfort not heretofore assured.

Gravel roads formerly existing were at their worst during constant rain and the highway was well nigh impossible, taken always at unusual risk. It was not uncommon then to chronicle several wrecks and other mishaps of lesser result.

It has oft times been said Bay St. Louis is practically a suburb of New Orleans. And even though we are a city by name and right, we do not object to the statement. Our relations and daily lives in a measure are so similar that the one and the other have so much in common. Hence there is much travel between the two States and for a holiday season this traffic is manifold. This was the real test of the new paved highway since its recent completion. Even though rain was constant for three days and nights with heavy downpour at frequent intervals travel was in no way impeded. Thousands of cars traveling to and fro made the trip with pleasure and a safety that was always questioned.

Then let us realize the advantages of this hard-surfacing and render thanks to whom it is due, not forgetting the Mississippi Highway Department, represented in this section by James F. Thames.

CONSIDER GREAT BRITAIN.

THE people of the United States should appreciate the prompt payment by Great Britain of the amount due under its war debt agreement. Moreover, from what we can learn, England is suffering more than some of our other debtors.

There are other facts which lead one to the conclusion that the British, if anybody, are entitled to relief. The interest rate paid by that country is three and three-tenths percent, more than double that charged to France and more than eight times the rate accorded Italy.

According to Treasury figures, the United States has received $2,726,266,898 in payments on the debts, of which three-fourths, or more than $2,000,000,000, has been paid by the British Government.

The British debt, as funded, was $4,600,000,000 and the French debt was $4,025,000,000. Under the debt agreements, the British are called up to pay $11,105,965,000 and the French only $6,847,674,104.

SAUNTERINGS. From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For the Sea Coast Echo)

AN atmosphere of futility, somehow, hover about a Christmas tree in a large city's railroad station. Amid the hustle and bustle of eager-to-reach-home for Christmas enjoyment, the tree is scarcely noticed.

On Christmas eve a tattered and worn old fellow, loitering in the waiting room to escape the chill of the night outside, sat on a bench directly before the tree. His tired eyes gazed blankly into space. But at intervals they would seem to glow with a light of happiness and satisfaction.

Perhaps, the thoughts of this pathetic old man were reflecting scenes from back in the dim past of years long since faded. Not unlikely, visions of his then happy family group, gathered about a Christmas tree are passing in review. The children are all grown now—married—drifted in different paths of life. The old man may be forgotten—alone—save for his haunting memories of the past.

The wail of a freight train about to leave the railroad yards arouses the poor, old, fellow from his trance. He rises. There are tear stains down his withered face. He shakes his head, as if to prove to himself that it was only a dream—and that stern reality with pangs of hunger and want are to be met. Reluctantly, he shuffles toward the door, out into the night, headed for—God knows where.

VALUE OF EXCHANGING GREETINGS.

There is something delightfully appealing about the custom of exchanging greeting cards during the Yuletide. These cheerful missives received from far-distant places bring back many happy memories of friends and scenes.

They serve to fill the gaps in the links of friendship that absence and distance tend to render apart.

THAT LOVABLE, FAITHFUL ANIMAL.

Among the greatly appreciated artistic and beautiful cards received there was one in particular that struck a responsive cord in our heart.

Against a background of gold, peering from beneath an oval designed frame of the outer folder, this one presented a realistic image of a lovable, faithful, and intelligent dog, gazing into one's face.

The expression of his eyes, the alert tilt of his ears, the angle of his head could not fail to be understood by anyone who knows and loves a dog. In his unspoken language he is saying: "Won't you accept my friendship, stranger? You'll find me true. The world may drag you to its lowest depths. Your friends may desert or avoid you. But if you treat me half-way decent, I will gladly offer my life to protect, honor, and obey you. Always will I greet your approach with dog-like devotion in my eyes."

VALUE OF DOG'S DEVOTION.

The sender of this card resides in Bay St. Louis. He is a prominent figure in public life there. And, needless to say, a dog shares a place in his heart and home.

Is it too much to say that before we select a man to represent the public in some high political office of trust, we first determine whether or not he understands and values the real worth of a dog's devotion?

This may be just a writer's hunch, but I would like to have some ideas from fellow dog lovers on the subject.

RAILROADS PLAYING SANTA CLAUS.

The railroads have decided to play Santa Claus to the traveling public. Circular from the Southern Pacific lines announces a round-trip rate from San Antonio to New Orleans for $6.00. This amazingly low rate begins December 29th, to 31st, inclusive. The tourist must reach original starting point prior to midnight, January 4th.

These tickets are honored on all first-class trains. Pullman berths are extra if a sleeper is desired. An advertisement in local newspapers extols New Orleans as the "winter capital of America," stresses the thrill of witnessing the New Year Handicap, and suggests an exploring jaunt through the quaint French Quarter.

MANY TO VISIT MISSISSIPPI COAST.

Many of these Texan visitors will possibly learn of the beauties of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and decide to visit this scenic paradise. Thus the railroads benefit different sections of the country. Is it not a pity that so many support their unfair competition? Perhaps if the public give more thought to the question, the railroads could expand their program—employ more men—and assist in making conditions much better in general.

NEW YEAR'S EVE PROHIBITION.

Tomorrow night is New Year's eve. During the celebration that takes place on this event it is customary to ring out the old, ring in the new. This year there are a great many of us who, while in the act of ringing, would like to "Ring out prohibition"—its scandalous ruination of our young people—its breeding of contempt for law and order—and its many deaths due to poisonous con-

NEW ORLEANS IN TRANSITION.

N. Y. Herald Tribune.

IT MAY be that the good housewives of New Orleans, market-bound pompano and the more exotic fruits of the semi-tropics and for the constituent parts of the creole dishes of the local tradition, will be enamored of the prospect of a new French Market resplendent with white tile and every convenience of modernity, but the leisureed atmosphere of America's most distinctive city will be the poorer for the change. For the old French Market as much a part of the city's established character as Faneuil Hall in Boston, is about to become one with the snows of yesterday, merely a fragment of memory of flowers and fish dating from the times when the Spanish flag flew over the Place d'Armes, before ever the heart of the Vieux Carre became Jackson Square in honor of that grim American fighter.

There is so much that is close to the very existence of any community in its marketplace that it seems somehow a pity that so glamorous a relic of the past should be sacrificed to the demands of a prosaic and sanitary modernity. The all-night quacking of ducks, the rattle of mule-drawn carts over the cobbles, the mountains of "herbs and other country messes" scalloped about the sidewalk coffee tables, the several hundred assorted smells, the coffee stalls, with their tall stools filled with hucksters and folk in evening dress pausing at the end of the night for a cup of drip coffee or a bowl of fragrant onion soup, have all been a part of New Orleans almost until it seems there could be no city nor life in it without them. The fresh gray shrimp, the vivid red snapper, the great red rose blooms of the deep South can never taste or smell the same from a modernized market.

L. & N. Shows Gain In Operating Revenue

New York, Dec. 27.—Pennsylvania railroad's operating income for November was $4,076,217 against $3,798,237 last year. Gross was $25,507,512 compared with $31,914,045 in the 1931 month.

coctions sold by unscrupulous bootleggers.

And when we get around to the "ringing in" stunt, let's ring in just a bit more confidence in ourselves—our state—our country—and the One above. Let's ring in a little bit more consideration for our fellow-men, and help those in more unfortunate circumstances than ourselves. If we all get to "ringing in" and "ringing out" this way—First thing we know that elusive usual, Normal Times, will be right back at the old stand, and "doing business as usual." Here's hoping! Happy New Year to all.

Drug Store at Ocean Springs Is Robbed

About $250 worth of merchandise was stolen Saturday night from the Huber Pharmacy in Ocean Springs and two pressing shops, Rehage's and the Gaar Pressing Shop, several suits of clothing were stolen. Entrance was gained to the Huber's Pharmacy by breaking open a rear door. Various counters and cases were emptied of merchandise, which included tobacco, fountain pens, pencils, etc.

So That Explains It.

Man looking at some neckties tossed one or two aside rather contemptuously. Lingering after having made his purchase, he noticed that the clerk put those he had so positively rejected in a separate box. "We have orders to keep such ties apart from the others," the clerk explained, "that is, after they have been turned down by several customers, as these have been."
"What becomes of them?" inquired the other.
"We sell them to the women who come in here to buy ties for men," was the reply.—Boston Transcript.

BAY ST. LOUIS CITY FATHERS WHO WILL TAKE OATH OF OFFICE MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 2, 1933.

G. Y. BLAIZE,
Mayor-Elect.H. GRADY PERKINS
Commissioner-Elect.W. L. BOURGEOIS, Commissioner-Elect.

—The Sea Coast Echo wishes its patrons and the public in general a Bright, Happy and Prosperous New Year.

—Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith motored down to New Orleans Thursday morning of this week to spend one of the holidays in the big city.

—With the New Year it might be well to renew that low stock of stationery of the business or professional man. The Sea Coast Echo is more than ordinarily well equipped with machinery and printers to take care of any order, from the smallest to the largest, efficiently, promptly and always with a view of lowering the cost.

—The Hancock County Insurance Company and Jos. R. Scharff, Bay St. Louis I. G. A. Store, each send The Echo attractive and serviceable calendars. The Louisville & Nashville R. R. Company has also favored this office with copies of its well-known type of useful calendar. These attentions are appreciated.

—Bro. Andrew, of the Order of the Sacred Heart, and former principal of the separate day school, St. Stanislaus College, in company with some twenty brothers, is out from New Orleans for several days of the holiday week and again shaking hands and mingling with friends of his former home town. Bro. Andrew is the picture of health, is one of the hard workers of the teaching corps at St. Aloysius College, New Orleans.

—Christmas Day in Bay St. Louis and Waveland passed in the usual peaceful and beautiful manner generally observed, with services in all churches and many decorations in stores, other places of business and private homes. It is said there were more Christmas trees than usually. Although rain prevailed Sunday and Monday this did not seem to dampen the ardor of the public. Many private entertainments in homes marked the event in addition to the usual manner. The poor were made happy, provided with an abundantly-filled basket by the efforts of local united charities.

PEOPLE have to a large extent ceased giving frivolous, useless gifts. A savings account is a gift for which the interest as well as the appreciation increases as the years go by.

—Bay St. Louis fire department was called out Thursday forenoon in answer to an alarm from the former J. N. Wisner home, now occupied by the Ludwig family, and which proved of no consequence after it had been controlled.

—Among Bay St. Louis' many outstanding and popular residents, home for holiday vacation, Marchmont Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schwartz, who is also visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Remy Klock, as well as his brothers. "Marchy" who is in his senior year at Notre Dame, will return to Indiana after New Year's. His recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, and featured by that publication, was one of the readable and interesting and internationally-known magazine weekly. There are great things in store for this clever and talented young man.

Destroys Health and Brings on Untold Pain and Suffering.

No man, woman or child can look their best, feel well and strong and enjoy life, as God intended, unless the Mineral content of the body is kept in proper balance. This fact has been proven conclusively.

FOODS DEVITALIZED
Modern methods of refining foods rob them of much of the Mineral content so necessary to health. Poor cooking and unbalanced diets are another source of trouble. The body is starved for the essential Minerals and Vitamins. Soon we suffer with indigestion, constipation, headaches, nervousness, pimply skin. We lose weight, feel tired and listless, fail to get enough sleep. Health deserts us and we wonder why.

NATURAL WAY TO HEALTH

After years of research, a new and remarkable formula has been perfected that supplies the body with the essential Minerals. This preparation is not a "patent" medicine but a scientific blending of Minerals and Vitamins that aids Nature in quickly balancing the mineral content of the body, cleansing away intestinal poisons and building new strength and vitality.

—Bro. Peter, former president St. Stanislaus College, now located at Baton Rouge, where he is president of the institution there, was in New Orleans during the week, suffering from an infected finger, and was consulting a specialist. His many Bay friends will regret to learn of his inconvenience but glad to know he is getting better.

—Miss Louise Carrere, home from college for the holidays, is widely feted in social circles at New Orleans. Many affairs are given in her honor, including a tea party by Mrs. Denechaud and Mrs. Ernest Carrere given Wednesday of this week at the handsome home of Mrs. Carrere in St. Charles avenue. Another party at the Country Club followed Thursday.

—Reopening of "The Answer," well-known tea room with guests accommodation will take place Sunday, January 1, Mrs. A. Bourgeois, proprietress and manager announces. The place has been improved with new additions and renovated. There will be a turkey dinner New Year's Day served for 75 cents, from the noon hour on. Mrs. Bourgeois has been operating the Hotel Weston and relinquishes her lease this week.

WHAT SHALL THE FARM PROGRAM BE FOR 1933?

NOW that we have had a good Christmas, or as good as could be expected under present economic conditions, we should turn our attention to working out a farm program for 1933, and this is to say that I shall be glad to meet the farmers in groups, or in the County Agent's office, and to visit as many farms as possible to render such aid or suggestions as will be helpful during the coming year.

The business of farming this year has not been unlike that of industrial enterprises which have undergone readjustment.

Whatever may be the prospects for agriculture in 1933, one thing must be kept steadily in mind, that is safe farming. This means raising on the farm the needs of the family and farm animals.

No class of citizens enjoy a greater sense of security than the farmer. He has shelter, fuel, and he can have his own food by his own effort. With a farm program pitched for taking care of farm needs, the remaining problem is what else to do. Any suggestions must be predicated on the fact that the farmer has little money to invest in farm enterprises. It is safe to say that farmers generally should utilize for crops in 1933 fewer acres, and these acres should be those that are most highly productive.

What crops to grow must be determined by the farmer's markets. Each farmer must figure that out for himself. Above all, keep up soil improvement practices. Plant your legumes and increase the soil fertility. Nothing is safer for the farmer in season and out than soil fertility. If the cash crops do not pay, the soil improvement crops will put fertility in the land like money in a savings bank against the time when it can be used to profit.

December, January and February is the best period of the year for planting trees. If you are interested in setting Pecan, Satsuma, Peach trees, or most any other nursery stock, this office will be glad to co-operate with you in the purchase of same.

The program outlined and endorsed by this office is not a new proposition, but instead, an old one—one which has weathered many periods of low prices and the men who have followed it consistently are going about their affairs with very little discomfort at this time. We do not intend to say that we have a solution to our present economic ills, but feel that the program of the Cow, Sow and Hen, together with a diversified crop schedule are valuable contributing factors toward attaining productive soils, home comforts and a better feeling of security.

POULTRY.

Anyone interested in buying baby chicks and building brick brooders for raising fryers, or increasing their poultry flock should see your County Agent for complete specifications.

SPRING CROP OF IRISH POTATOES.

If interested in Spring Crop Irish Potatoes on a commercial scale see your County Agent. He has an attractive proposition on a trade basis offered by a seed potato grower of Nebraska. It will be necessary to act quickly on present proposition.

AN INVITATION.

Now that the season is on us for planning the farm work for 1933, I shall be glad to meet with farmers and livestock men in groups, or at the County Agent's Office at the Court House and talk over the various farm problems—not that I will be able to answer every question, but will be glad to take up with the State College of Agriculture or the U. S. Department of Agriculture such problems as I am unable to answer personally.

If you have a problem, let your wants be known. I have a pretty good knowledge of human nature, but cannot anticipate your wants; therefore, this invitation and if I can be of service to you I shall be glad to do so.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING ON YOUR FARM?

Merchants and business men keep a record of their operations—why shouldn't the Farmer?

Keep a record of your farm operations for 1933, and if you find that you are not making a reasonable and fair return on certain crops, rearrange your program. Consult your County Agent regarding a system of farm accounting, and you will know at the end of the year what crops have been profitable; what it costs to produce certain crops, and whether or not managing the crops just a little different would have resulted in larger profits.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

The month of January is one of new beginnings which when applied to cooking may result in more attractive meals and better health. Even if you can't have new foods, serve the old ones in a new way.

Mexican Meat Ball With Spanish Sauce

Spanish sauce should be prepared first and put on a slow fire.
1 can tomato sauce
1/2 white onion chopped fine
1/2 teaspoon chopped garlic
1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
1 teaspoon cooking oil
1 cup hot water
Salt and pepper to taste.
Fry garlic and onion in oil to a light brown stage. Pour tomato sauce, adding cup of hot water into a medium sized pot. Add fried onion and garlic and let simmer.

Meat Balls

1 pound freshly ground meat
2 cups cold mashed potatoes
2 cups stale bread crumbs
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
A piece of parsley, celery, green onion and garlic.
1 teaspoon chili powder
Pepper.
Mix meat with salt and pepper, add chili powder, finely chopped garlic, onion, parsley, celery and green pepper. Mix in bread crumbs and potatoes. Add beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly. Take a small handful of prepared meat and form into balls, dust on both sides in oil. When all are browned put in Spanish sauce and allow to simmer 30 minutes over a slow fire.

Shred two cups of diced beef, pour boiling water over it, let stand 3 minutes then drain. Meanwhile melt 3 tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, add one medium sized onion chopped and cook until onion is tender. Then add 3 tablespoons of flour, 1 1/2 tablespoons curry powder, stir until smooth, then add 1 1/2 cups milk and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. When smooth and thickened add the dried beef. Serve on toast or with baked potatoes.

Corn and Tomato Pasa'e

Prepare 6 slices of toast and butter while hot. Melt 3 tablespoons of butter, add 1 tablespoon of finely chopped onion and 2 tablespoons of chopped green pepper. Cook until tender then add 1 can of corn and stir well. Next add 1 cup of canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon soda and 1-8 teaspoon pepper. Combine thoroughly. When hot pour over toast.

Casserole Turnips.

Boil 2 cups turnips, pared and cut in one inch pieces. Prepare 1 pint of white sauce to which has been added 1-4 cup grated onion and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Remove from fire and add the juice of 1 lemon and 2 hard boiled eggs sliced. Pour over the turnips in a casserole and garnish with small bunches of crisp fried parsley.

Baked Peppers With Spinach.

6 medium peppers
2 cups cooked spinach
3 hard boiled eggs
1 onion cube
1 cup hot water
Salt and pepper
Parboil peppers ten minutes. Chop spinach very fine, add hard boiled eggs chopped to spinach. Season

WITH THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLKS

(For the Sea Coast Echo)

WHEELER and Woolsey, comedians, are back with RKO after making a picture for Columbia.

Fox has finished "Calvacade," and "State Fair" the year's two most ambitious efforts and the lot has settled down to routine production. Warner Brothers have put on an eighteen-day schedule for major productions. Daryl Zanuck says that proper preparation of stories makes the time possible.

Douglas Fairbanks has called off his hunt of the sabre-toothed tiger in Manchuria and will not make a travel picture there. He found conditions there disagreeable and the restrictions on his activities so irksome that he abandoned his big game hunting trip.

Eskimos were recently startled by pink snow caused when W. S. Van Dyke started filming the scenes in "The Eskimo." Because sunlight on snow causes strong reflections, an air machine sprayed paint on the snow and native ice huts, giving them a beautiful rose-colored hue overnight. The native cast was astonished and, in some instances, alarmed.

Mack Sennett has completed his first feature-length effort, "Hynotized," and is well pleased with it. The yarn is around Charlie Mack, of Moran and Mack and Wallace Ford and Maria Alba.

Ed Wynnes' recent successes over the radio caused Paramount to reissue "The Perfect Fool," which had little success sometime ago.

Colin Clive, English actor, last seen in "Frankenstein," will be the leading man for Katherine Hepburn in her first starring film, "The Great Desire."

The three Barrymores' "Rasputin and the Empress," had its premiere in New York last week. This was the first joint cinema appearance of the trio and was Ethel Barrymore's first appearance in talking pictures.

Fox has dedicated a $50,000 studio building for authors. Lewis Stone, Richard Bennett, Louise Closser Hale and Leo Carrillo have been cast for "The White Sister."

Gary Cooper and Sylvia Sydney will appear in Paramount's, "Pick-up."

XMAS IS OVER.

Christmas is over, little girls and boys,
Old Santa has gone far away;
The New Year is coming, and I hope that it brings,
Joy to you all, every day.

Were you happy at Christmas, little girls and boys,
With your trees, and your pretty new toys,
With your dolls, your balls, your rings and things,
Were you glad, little girls and boys?

Did you think of those children less fortunate?
Some of them hungry, and cold,
Some whose chimneys Santa Claus missed,
Some ragged and sad and old?

Perhaps you'll have a chance today,
To help some poor child you know,
To say a kind word, to a kind deed,
As about your play you go.

These poor you, little children,
They need you, just as you need them,
In spite of all your toys. —E. G.

THE NEW YEAR.

The year of nineteen-thirty-two
Has vanished from our sight—
A brand new year has come to us
Quietly in the night.
The old year with his hour-glass,
Long white beard, and scythe,
Has gone and left us with a babe—
Happy, gay and blithe.

Now to make the best of things
We'll treat this new year kind
We won't give it depression knocks!
As the one behind.
We will talk of prosperity,
Good times will soon be here;
Come on, everybody, smile,
Spread happiness and cheer.

"FLESH" STIRRING FILM WITH WALLACE BEERY AT HIS BEST

Star's Role of Beer-Garden Wrestler Tops All Previous Portrayals.

For those who like red-blooded action in addition to the comedy and pathos of a heart drama that stirs the audience to tears, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offers Wallace Beery in "Flesh," at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Beery scored one of his greatest triumphs of his career in a prize-fight picture, "The Champ." His present vehicle, which deals with the wrestling racket, is a worthy successor. "Flesh" is more than a wrestling picture. It is a drama that goes behind the scenes. Beery, a great hulk of a man, is a wrestling waiter in a Berlin beer garden. There he meets Karen Morley, an American hooper whose dancing partner has involved her in a crooked deal which lands both in jail. When she is released Beery befriends her and puts her up in the house where he lives with his friends who own the beer garden.

Dupes Him Into Marriage

Through Beery's efforts Miss Morley's lover gets out of jail and to free himself of the girl dupes her into a marriage with Beery. A child is born, Beery becomes the wrestling champion of Germany, and the little family move to America. There Cortez again takes a hand in Beery's affairs, steering him into a "faked" match for the world's championship.

There are gripping dramatic scenes in the picture, the comedy is delightful, and Beery stages some exciting matches with famous matmen including the former world's champion, Wladak Zbyszko.

John Ford, admired for his able direction of "Arrowsmith," brings out all the emotional values that abound in "Flesh." Jean Hersholt, John Miljan, Vince Barnett, Herman Bing, Edward Brophy and Greta Meyer, in addition to Karen Morley and Ricardo Cortez, help Wallace Beery to reach new entertainment heights in this splendid production.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardui has helped thousands of women.
"I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnered me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go to places, and felt worn, tired, day after day."
"My mother had taken Cardui, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."
Cardui is sold by local druggists.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

Miss Didrickson Wins Made Great Record Award To Sarazen Alexander Tops Batters Approval For Chains.

Miss Mildred (Babe) Didrickson has been voted the most outstanding girl athlete of 1932 in a poll conducted by the Associated Press among 199 sports writers. The Texan won secured 77 votes, while her nearest rival, Miss Helene Madison, of Seattle, polled 45. Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, with 21, Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, National Golf Champion, with 16 and Miss Eleanor Holm, pretty back-stroke swimmer, with 13, were the runners-up. No other woman athlete received more than six votes.

Miss Didrickson, now holding the limelight by virtue of a suspension following some dispute over an alleged automobile endorsement, is regarded by many observers as the greatest all-round athlete her sex has ever produced. She won or tied for first place in a half dozen events in the National Woman's track and field championship collecting enough points to win the team title. She captured the Olympic javelin throw and 80-meter hurdles with world's record performances and finished second in the high jump. She also plays football, basketball, and can wallopp a golf ball more than 200 yards.

Ed (Strangler) Lewis, of Kentucky, recognized in New York as the world's heavyweight wrestling champion, recently defeated Leon Pinetzk, giant Pole and Sammy Stein in successive matches on the same night. Lewis defeated his first opponent in 28 minutes, 13 seconds and then threw the second in 32 minutes, 41 seconds. His famed headlock won him both victories.

The Green Bay Packers failed to win the pro-football title this year, which fell to the Chicago Bears when they defeated the Portsmouth, Ohio Spartans in a play-off game at the Chicago Stadium.

Jimmy McLarnin knocked out Sammy Fuller, of Boston, in the eighth round of a ten round bout. The loser went down in the first and second rounds but staged a courageous battle afterwards, doing most of the leading and suffering from the tactics of the Irishman who took every possible advantage of his weight.

The Associated Press nation-wide poll of sports editors and writers named Gene Sarazen as the greatest athletic performer in 1932 because of his feat in winning the American and British Open Golf Championships. Sarazen was given 53 votes, Elsworth Vines, world's tennis champion, received 36, Eddie Tolan, Olympia 100 and 200-meter dash champion 33, Jimmy Fox 32; James A. Bausch, Olympic decathlon champion 25; William A. Carr, Olympic 400-meter champion, 20; and Babe Ruth, Yankee slugger 20.

Sarazen's vote was not quite so impressive as that given "Pepper" Martin in 1931 but was well ahead of his nearest rival. The poll carried no restrictions as to Amateur or professional and was wide open in the fullest sense of the word.

Official batting averages of the American League revealed that Dale Alexander, who opened the season with Detroit and later went to the Boston Red Sox, won the individual batting championship, with a mark of .367, or three points better than the average of Jimmy Foss. However, the star first sacker of the Athletics was first in runs scored, with 151, first in total bases, 438; and first in home-runs with 58, only two points below Babe Ruth's all-time Major League record.

Ben Chapman, of the Yankees, took the base-stealing honors, with 28; Lou Gehrig was in third place with a batting average of .349, Henie Manush, Washington, outfielder, fourth, with .342 and Babe Ruth fifth, with .341. Incidentally, the big Bambino hit 41 home-runs, making the eleventh season in which he has hit forty or more circuit smashers.

Commissioner Landis, who has been unalterably opposed to chain store baseball, was given a hint when the club owners of both big leagues openly placed their combined approval upon the system. Heretofore, the Commissioner has ruled that players sent by Major League club, which caused at least one club owner to threaten court action. However, the magnates have ruled that henceforth all player transactions must be regarded in the same light, regardless of any relationship in stock ownership.

The magnates took no action on radio, leaving the subject open to debate. The American League lifted its ban on intra-league games during the spring exhibition season and both leagues favored the proposal to permit clubs to advance games in order to arrange double-headers, providing the visiting club consented.

According to a poll of 302 writers and editors the outstanding feat of 1932 was the winning of the American League pennant by the New York Yankees. The Associated Press conducted this poll and the New York team got 100 votes to 33 for Colgate's football accomplishment, which took second place. Southern California got 28 votes and the U. S. track and field team at the Olympic games took fourth place with 26 ballots. Next in line was the Green Bay pro football team, with 19 votes.
